

---

a walk through

CSS Based Design

---

Here are some CSS-based designs that I absolutely love....but didn't create.

Cameron Moll ~ Web designer, speaker and author

"Is it 'Mall' or 'Mull' you ask? It's 'Mall.' The correct pronunciation, however, is actually 'Mull,' as the surname is Germanic. But for the love of Pete, please don't pronounce it as 'Mole.'

On The Clock

I'm currently employed as Interaction Design Manager at the LDS Church headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah. Most know me as designer, author, speaker, or any combination of the three. This one-page PDF sums things up quite nicely." Cameron Moll <http://cameronmoll.com/about/>

Melody Randol ~ Quilt Artist

"I'm a biologist by degree, teacher by profession, and fiber artist by passion. Born and raised in Southern California, I have spent the past three decades living in the Colorado Rockies. My husband and I are avid campers and hikers, and I am never without my camera. With Mother Nature as my mentor, I start with what I see.

I use a number of tools in creating my art including a camera, computer, scanner, printer, and sewing machine. I dye, paint, discharge, print, stitch and embellish fabric. Each art quilt evolves as I work, with the end result being something beyond what I envisioned at the onset. My work, like nature, is ever changing, and is found in numerous corporate and private collections." Melody Randol <http://melodyquilts.com/about.html>

©2008 Web Works Creative Services ®